

Synopsis:

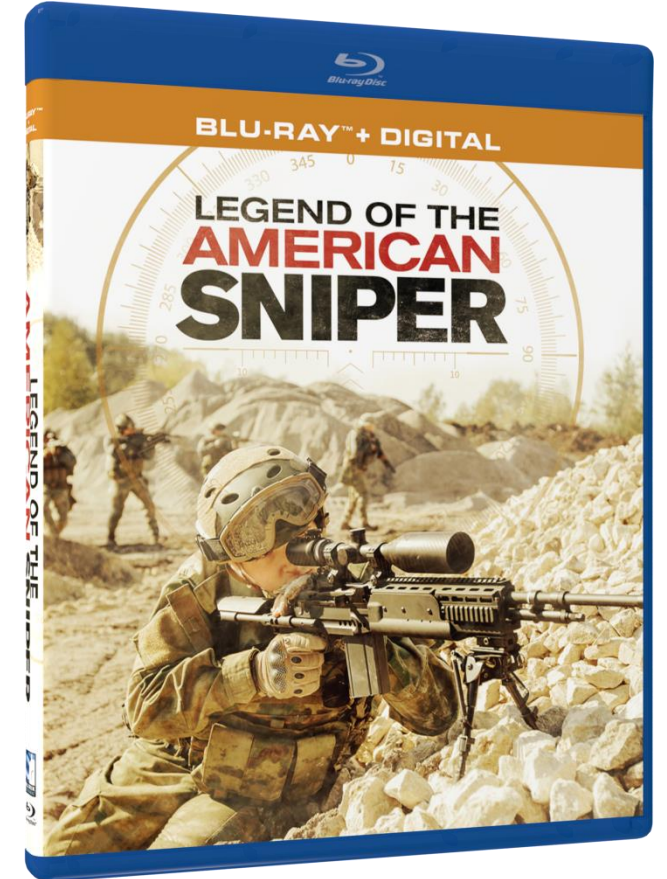

If anyone can claim the essence of the true warrior spirit, the one who sacrifices and fights for the greater good of his comrades, and the greater good of his country, it is the American sniper. The sniper, first and foremost, is a hunter. His weapon: a rifle. His prey: another human being. None have embraced this world better than the American sniper.

Target Audience: Military; War Documentary buffs

Notable Cast/Crew: Produced by award-winning documentarians Centre Communications
