Full Synopsis:

William Masters and Virginia Johnson are known as pioneers of the science of human sexuality. Their research shoots them to fame on a trajectory that takes them from humble beginnings in the Midwest to the cover of Time magazine. Masters is a brilliant scientist who is out of touch with his own feelings. Johnson is a divorced mother who is ahead of her time on many fronts, including her determination to have a meaningful career. The pair's relationship isn't just professional, as it evolves into a three-way "marriage" with Masters' wife, Libby. "Masters of Sex" is based on Thomas Maier's book of the same name, which profiled the pair.

Marketing Points:

- Developed by Michelle Ashford loosely based on Thomas Maier’s biography of the same name.
- Creator Michelle Ashford recently signed a production deal with FX Productions and is currently serving as co-executive producer and writer on the TV mini-series “Lewis and Clark.”
